

The Sacred Thread of Yoga

a Celebration

honoring the light of yoga as it has come down through the generations

offered by world-renowned acknowledged exponents

Fort Mason
SAN FRANCISCO
October 11-17, 2010

Come savor the presence of the festival presenters, some of the most remarkable people of our age, who are foremost amongst those who continue the tradition of handing on the Sacred Thread of the knowledge and practice of yoga down through the generations.

Festival Venue

San Francisco is home to a vibrant community of world-renowned teachers and their students. For seven spectacular days, the city's unique atmosphere will be encapsulated in a beautiful tented city-community raised within the oceanside Fort Mason complex. Festival participants will be at the center of the action, mingling together in a specially-designed 'Rajasthani' or 'Kashmiri' market and bazaar atmosphere of lively streets and squares, colorful banners and stalls, and sacred marquees devoted to their practice.
